To whomsoever it may concern,

INTACH i.e. Indian National Trust for Art and Cultural Heritage came up with a novel project of educating young kids about heritage of Pune through a 10-episode radio programme to be aired on Pune Akashwani. The episodes were to be later collectively published in a CD.

We wanted someone who could write the script exactly according to our requirements and we finalized on Dr. Mrinal Dhongde's name. We had a series of meetings and discussions and Mrinal Dhongde came up with a script that exactly matched our requirement. I must say she took pains to understand and study the material we had given to her and covered all the points that we wanted to express before the kids regarding heritage. It should be mentioned that she not only used simple and natural language but it was also lucid. The project was a great success and we appreciate the efforts taken by Mrinal.

We also time and again bank on Mrinal's 'Tatsam Linguistic Services' for our translation requirements such as translations of panels in exhibitions, reports etc.
